General Procedures for Construction Records Retention

The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) requires that project construction records for federally funded projects be retained for a minimum of three years past the FHWA final accounting date. The FHWA final accounting date (for the purpose of records retention) is the date the Financial Operations Division (FOD) does the final billing to FHWA for federal funds. In addition to the FHWA requirement, there are record retention requirements issued by the Michigan Department of History, Arts and Libraries (HAL) and MDOT's Records Management Office. This procedure takes into account the requirements of the FHWA, as well as HAL.

The managing office engineer (delivery/project/resident/county/city/consultant) is responsible for all project records required at the project site. Each TSC/project office will name a Construction Records Coordinator (CRC) and provide the name of this person to the Construction and Technology Support Area's Records Management Coordinator (RMC).

Project records for construction on state trunkline projects will be retained at the region, TSC, or project office until the FOD final accounting date. This applies to both federally and state funded projects. The RMC will notify the CRC of the FOD final accounting date for projects in their respective area by e-mail on a monthly basis. This date is also available through the Phase Financial Closeout (PFC) application, which is accessible through a web interface using Citrix software. There may be a few instances when projects will not be listed in the PFC application. These projects are typically maintenance (M projects) and Multi-Modal projects. When these types of projects do not show up in PFC, the records will be sent to the HAL Records Management Office for microfilming and storage once the final voucher has been generated. The retention period will start on the final voucher date.

The construction records for projects with consultant engineering management will be delivered to the managing TSC when the final estimate voucher is received. The managing TSC will retain the records in accordance with these procedures.

If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit or other action involving the records has been started before the FOD final accounting date, the records must be retained at the project office until completion of the action and resolution of all issues. Should the CRC be notified that such action has commenced after the records have been transferred to the HAL Records Management Office, the CRC will notify the RMC. At the end of the retention period, the HAL Records Management Office will send the record disposal notice to the RMC. The RMC will contact the CRC prior to any record disposal by HAL.

Retain the records for projects with warranty work at the TSC/project office until the end of the warranty period, unless the warranty period ends before the FOD final accounting date. If the warranty period ends before the FOD final accounting date, then retain the records at the TSC/project office until the FOD final accounting date.

All project records for non-trunkline projects are to be transferred to or retained by the local unit of government having jurisdiction over it.

File Terminology and Identification

Project records are subject to retention in accordance with the agency specific Retention and Disposal Schedules, which are legal documents (required by statute) that list all of the records created and maintained by an agency. Schedules provide the legal authority to dispose of state records, and are approved by the agency, Records Management Services, Auditor General, Attorney General, Michigan Historical Center, and State Administrative Board.

Contract ID

Contract ID numbers are assigned when a project is programmed as a unique identifier by work phase. Phase A is the construction phase.

Example: Contract ID: 58034-48611

The first two digits represent the county designation: 58 – Monroe County
The next three numbers represent the location within the county. The project number (48611) is obtained from the Map Project Information Systems (MPINS) during the design phase.

Project Identification

Appropriately identify and file all project documentation in numeric sequence by contract ID number. Note the contract ID number on all project data and folder labels. File all data in the proper location within the record series, and document the appropriate cross references in FieldManager.

Record Series

100 Series A record category to accommodate administrative and financial type documents.

200 Series A record category to accommodate engineering records.

300 Series A record category to accommodate testing records.

Folder Identification

All file folders will be labeled and each label will show the folder number, title, and the appropriate contract project identification.

Example:	102	Contract	58034-48611
	105	Contract Modifications	58034-48611
	110	Estimates	58034-48611

When the document volume within a folder becomes cumbersome, an additional folder(s) may be used.

Example:	112	Correspondence	58034-48611
	112A	Correspondence	58034-48611

In the event there are multiple project numbers within a construction contract, further identification detail may appear on each folder, along with folder number, folder name, and contract ID. This may not be necessary for all contracts due to the volume of records. Typically, the lowest project number will be included in contract ID.

Example:

Contract ID:	Control Section:	Project	Fed#	Fed Item

PROJECT RECORDS FILES, FORMS, AND RETENTION TABLE

This table lists the common forms and record types used for the administration of MDOT projects, and the retention and disposal of each. All forms and record types listed may not be used by all offices. Moreover, there may be forms and record types used that are not listed here. The absence of a form or record type from this document or the retention schedule does not exclude it from the State of Michigan's retention policy.

Record Series Item No. – Each record series listed on a retention schedule is assigned a number and a retention period. The only record series number you will use for project construction records is 28910. This is the number that will be entered into the Versatile program when preparing the records to be transferred to the Record Center.

Note: Subtitled folders will be assigned to item of work folders and tested material folders. A subtitled folder may be set up for a single item of work and tested material, or for a group of related items of work or materials. Subtitled and appropriate titled folders should be provided in sufficient quantity and groupings to permit convenient and quick access to the item of work and material documentation. The quantity of subtitled folders will vary with the type of project, and with the variety and number of items of work. Each subtitled folder should contain the support data for the work listed on the folder. Subtitled folders should also be assigned to material folders. A subtitled folder may be set up for a single material, or for a group of related materials. On a resurfacing project containing 3 or 4 items of work, all the required documentation for support of the quantities could be filed in one subtitled folder.

Records should not be prepared and sent to HAL's Records Management Office until training has been provided. Please contact Julie Baldwin (baldwinju@michigan.gov or phone 517-322-5659), Construction and Technology Records Management Coordinator, for training and questions.
